WESTERN WASHINGTON PRO CHAPTER

Honoring 2007's best in newspapers, alt-Weeklies, magazines, online, television and radio

EXCELLENCE IN JOURNALISM

ZODD

The Board of Directors and Members of Washington Coalition for Open Government

congratulate

Frank Garred

(one of WCOG's founding board members and first executive director)

upon receiving the June Almqvist Lifetime Achievement Award

Thanks for all you've done for journalism, open government, and First Amendment rights in Washington, Frank!

The logo for the Washington Coalition for Open Government. It features a small grey square with a white outline of the state of Washington to the left of the text. The text is arranged in three lines: "Washington" in a grey sans-serif font, "Coalition for" in a green serif font, and "Open Government" in a larger green serif font. Below the main text, the website address "washingtoncog.org" is written in a smaller, grey sans-serif font.

JUNE ANDERSON ALMQUIST AWARD

For distinguished service to journalism

The 2007 June Anderson Almquist Award for Distinguished Service to Journalism will be presented to Frank Garred, a retired newspaper publisher, owning and operating community newspapers on the Olympic Peninsula since 1967. Garred has served as president of the Port Townsend Chamber of Commerce, Washington Newspaper Publishers Association, the National Newspaper Association (NNA), National Newspaper Association Foundation, and the International Society of Weekly Newspaper Editors. He served seven years as NNA's representative to the national Accrediting Council for Education in Journalism and Mass Communications. A 1958 graduate of the University of Washington with a degree in Journalism, he served in the army (infantry) with duty in Korea prior to joining the news staff of the Aberdeen Daily World in 1960. He was a newspaper reporter and editor from 1960 until 1967 when he purchased the newspaper at Port Townsend. He served as executive director of the Washington Coalition for Open Government from its creation in 2002 until June 2004, and as Vice President in 2006. He has taught Journalism courses at Western Washington University and Peninsula College (Port Angeles).

ABOUT JUNE ANDERSON ALMQUIST

In the late 1960s, the SPJ Western Washington Chapter established two awards: "Courage in Journalism," an award presented at the discretion of the chapter to a news organization rather than an individual, and "Service to Journalism," an award given to an individual for a special contribution toward the betterment of journalism within Washington state. They were later combined into one under the moniker of the "Distinguished Service to Journalism Award." The board renamed the award the "June Anderson Almquist Award for Distinguished Service to Journalism," following her death in 2000. Almquist had a long career as a reporter, columnist and editor at The Seattle Times, concluding as an assistant managing editor. She also was a trailblazer in SPJ. Almquist was the Western Washington chapter's first woman president and received the Distinguished Service to Journalism Award in 1976. She was a leader in SPJ regionally and nationally. In 1998, she received the society's highest award for meritorious service, the Wells Key.
